

GrEEEn Day 2009 Sponsorship

*Green Brook * Long Hill * Warren * Watchung*

GrEEEn Day 2009 is a one-day, fun filled fair, designed to raise awareness about environmental responsibility in an effort to encourage behavioral change at the local level. This event provides an excellent opportunity for you to showcase your organization's commitment to the environment. This will be an exciting and informational family-oriented experience that will bring together four Somerset and Morris County towns to increase attention to conservation, sustainability and recycling.

For the first time, the 2009 GrEEEn Day Fair will include the collaborative efforts of Green Brook, Long Hill, Warren, and Watchung. All of these towns share the same community goal of minimizing our impact on the environment by reducing energy consumption and recycling waste. This year's event theme is 'Caring and Connecting Our Communities, One Footprint at a Time'. Scheduled to be held on Sunday, October 18, 2009, at the Watchung Hills Regional High School, Warren, NJ, the fair is expected to attract hundreds of attendees from all over the greater Somerset/Morris County area.

Since GrEEEn Day is a volunteer-organized event, we need local businesses to support essential elements of the fair to ensure attendees have a clean, safe and fun experience. We realize that sponsorship can be challenging in these tough economic times. However, your company's commitment and involvement provides valued assistance towards promoting environmental responsibility while highlighting your role as an environmentally responsible business within the community.

A sponsor can donate services, products or money in an effort to make this year's event a successful and memorable one. The following are just a few reasons to support the 2009 GrEEEn Day:

- Demonstrate your company's commitment to the community
- Raise your brand profile, while helping drive customer traffic
- Create free exposure through event publicity and foot traffic

We encourage you to please contact the undersigned for more information on how you can support your neighborhood while working to build your business. A sponsorship registration form is enclosed.
